

TAEDEAT - WE BRING THE FOURTH

- QUARTUM FERRIMUS -

Present members Mark and Mathew, together with ex-guitarist Threat, formed Taedeat in July, 2002. Azogh joined in on vocals for the second rehearsal session and after recording their first demo under the band name Surrounded By All, Calvin was recruited to complete the line-up.

Shortly thereafter, Threat left the band to pursue other projects and after a few sessions and gigs, with Embracing guitarist Ronnie covering Threat's place, Azogh picked up the guitar and the quartet was made solid. After heavy rehearsing and composing, the band (now renamed Taedeat) was pushed into the studio by manager Lisa Magnusson, and the recording of their debut album took place. The CD was unleashed late April 2004.

"We Bring the Fourth" marks the first step in this relatively young band's journey and the music takes the listener through eight tracks of satanic mayhem. The composition of songs is melodic yet brutal, reminiscent of the late At the Gates and The Crown. The vocals range between trash-style screaming and all-out growling. The appearance of a vast collection of guest-musicians from bands such as Embracing, Naglfar, Bewitched and Nocturnal Rites adds even more weight to an already massive production.

Taedeat is presently looking for a new label to carry them forward. In April 2005 the band will once more enter the Dimrakk Studio, in their hometown Umeå, to record a new promo-CD. Until then, please take a moment to listen through the debut album "We Bring the Fourth" and follow Taedeat on a journey down the stairway to hell. Keep eyes and ears open, for soon Quademortis will ascend.
